The History of American Public Health
From the Early Republic to the Great Society (1790 to 1965)
Examiner: Frank Snowden
Examinee: Matt Gunterman
Date: September 2, 2009

I. General Overviews of Public Health & Its Central Themes
II. An Era of Citizen Responsibility & Local Reaction (1790-1850)
   A. Immigration
   B. Infrastructure
   C. Administration & Bureaucracy
   D. Society & Culture
   III. Innovation in a Changing Urban Environment (1850-1900)
   A. Immigration
   B. Infrastructure
   C. Administration & Bureaucracy
   D. Society & Culture
   IV. The Articulation of a New Public Health (1900-1930)
   A. A Multifarious Germ Theory of Disease & Its Implications
   B. The Manifestations of a New Public Health
   V. The Expansion of Public Health (1930-1965)

I. General Overviews of Public Health & Its Central Themes

II. An Era of Citizen Responsibility & Local Reaction (1790-1850)

III. Innovation in a Changing Urban Environment (1850-1900)

A. Immigration & Imperialism

B. Infrastructure

C. Administration & Bureaucracy

D. Society & Culture

IV. The Articulation of a New Public Health (1900-1930)

A. A Multifarious Germ Theory of Disease & Its Implications

B. The Manifestations of a New Public Health

V. The Expansion of Public Health (1930-1965)

