YALE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

The degree of Doctor of Medicine is conferred upon students who have satisfactorily completed the requirements stated below:

- Pass all of the required pre-clerkship integrated courses and clinical experience courses.
- Pass all of the required integrated clinical clerkships.
- Complete and pass a sub-internship.
- Pass the United States Medical Licensing Examination (USMLE), Steps I and II.
- Submit an approved dissertation by mid-March of the year of graduation.
- Pass the Clinical Skills Assessment, performed at the University of Connecticut (UCONN4) in Year 3.
- Meet all of the requirements of the Progress Committee and Board of Permanent Officers concerning academic standing, moral and ethical character, emotional stability, and professional conduct.

*A list of policies pertaining to Academic Progress and Graduation Requirements can be found at http://medicine.yale.edu/education/ppgg/curriculum/index.aspx