Dear VACS-COMpAAAS Scientific Meeting Attendee,

Thank you for coming to learn more about and participate in the discussion of the Veterans Aging Cohort Study and COMpAAAS. A lot of exciting things have occurred since the last time our entire team convened.

We have a full agenda (attached)--one I trust you will find interesting and informative. We are counting on your active participation. Please come to our welcome reception this evening from 7:00-9:00 pm in the Empire Room. Breakfast will be available starting at 7:30 am in the Empire Foyer.

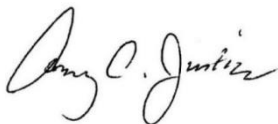

We would like to say a special thanks to Angela Consorte, Liana Erickson, and Julie Huston for organizing the meeting this year. If you have questions regarding travel arrangements or reimbursements, please direct them to Angela. Speakers, if you have yet to turn in your slides, please send them to Angela (angela.consorte@va.gov and angela.consorte@yale.edu). Once again, we have not issued meeting books. Instead, we will post all the slides presented at this meeting on the password protected side of the vacohort.org website. We have also posted electronic copies of our recently published papers there as well as descriptions of ongoing projects, copies of our surveys, demographic descriptions of our cohort, recent press coverage of VACS, important related links, and much more:

Once again, thanks for coming! Angela has planned a wonderful evening for us at Bar Civita on Monday.

Sincerely,

Amy C. Justice, MD, PhD
