

Yale Alumni Endowments

Several endowments and gifts from generous alumni provide funding for medical students to complete clinical experiences in international settings. Each of these endowments have been developed to support travel and living expenses for a highly motivated medical student who wishes to do a rotation in an underdeveloped country or a country where there is a pressing health-care need. For more information, contact the Office of Global Health Education.

These travel awards and recent recipients are:

- Eric P. Kindwall, '60 International Clinical Rotation Fund
This fund supports travel and incidental expenses for an international clinical rotation for a highly motivated medical student who wishes to do their rotation in a developing country but lacks the means for such.
 - Siyu Xiao, China (2018)
 - Angela Gauthier, Thailand (2018)
 - Anand Gopal, Thailand (2018)
 - Marquita (Kilgore) Nolan, Tennessee (2018)
 - Belinda Nhundu, South Africa (2019)
 - Anuoluwapo Sopeyin, Nigeria (2020)
 - August Oddleifson, Chile (2022)
 - Michael Flores, Colombia (2023)

- Daniel B. Stryer, MD Class of 1990 International Clinical Rotation Fund
This fund is intended to support the travel and living expenses for an international clinical rotation of a highly motivated medical student who wishes to do their rotation in an underdeveloped country or a country where there is a pressing health-care concern but lacks the means for such an experience.
 - Frances Grace Javier, Argentina (2018)
 - Aimee Alphonso, Chile (2018)
 - Adam Brownstein, Chile (2018)
 - Goran Micevic, China (2018)
 - Allen Shih, China (2018)
 - Sophie Chung, Colombia (2018)
 - Jennie Choe, Ghana (2018)
 - Hadley Bloomhardt, Uganda (2018)
 - Ke Zhang, China (2019)
 - Alison Lee, Ghana (2019)
 - Rosie (Yapei) Zhang, Ghana (2019)
 - Derek Ou, Chinle, AZ (2019)
 - Sacha Murillo, Chinle, AZ (2019)
 - Melissa Thomas, Chinle, AZ (2019)
 - Caitlin Parmer-Chow, Argentina (2020)
 - Ryan Handoko, Uganda (2020)
 - Seewan Kim, Uganda (2020)
 - Louisa Lu, Greece (2020)
 - Charlie Zhao, China (2020)
 - Olamide Olawoyin, Ghana (2022)
 - Kelsey Rankin, Uganda (2023)

- Susan Wolf, MD and William Green, MD Fund for International Clinical Rotations
This fund is intended to support the travel, living and preparatory expenses (e.g. immunizations, evacuation insurance, etc.) for an international health-related experience of a highly motivated medical student(s) or MD/PhD student(s) who lacks the means for such an experience. It is to support an international clinical opportunity that exposes students to under-served populations.
 - Mehida Alexandre, Argentina (2018)
 - Amanda Lu, Dominican Republic (2018)
 - Paul Bourdillon, Ghana (2019)
 - Nicolas Munoz, Colombia (2020)
 - Joseph Lim, Uganda (2020)
 - Benjamin Steren, Ghana (2022)
 - Muzzammil Muhammad, Ghana (2023)

- Mitchell Edson MD, Fund for International Clinical Rotations
This fund is intended to support the travel, living and preparatory expenses (e.g. immunizations, evacuation insurance, etc.) for an international health-related experience of a highly motivated medical student(s) or MD/PhD student(s). It is to support an international clinical opportunity that exposes students to under-served populations.
 - Melody Hu, Argentina (2018)
 - Alex Sun, China (2018)
 - Lucy Zhang, Ghana (2018)
 - Constance Zou, China (2019)
 - Lovemore Kuzomunhu, Ghana (2019)
 - Kristina Klara, Argentina (2020)
 - Cosmas Sibindi, Ghana (2022)
 - Annika Belzer, Ghana (2023)

- Maria Turner, MD & Raymond W. Turner, MD 1958 International Fellowship. This fellowship will cover the costs incurred for travel, expenses, immunizations, for a medical student seeking an international experience, with a preference for clinical experiences.
 - Genevieve Yang, China (2018)
 - Sara Tannenbaum, Ghana (2019)
 - Sifon Ndon, Jamaica (2019)
 - Christina Lin, South Africa (2020)
 - Samer Hassan, Colombia (2022)
 - Mayfong Shum, Colombia (2023)

- Howard A. Minners, M.D. 1957 International Fellowship
The Minners fellowship will fund the travel and living expenses for an international health-related experience for a student, resident or faculty member.
 - Yulanka Castro-Dominguez, Fac.to Dominican Republic (2018)
 - Nadia Ameen, Fac. to Dominican Republic (2018)
 - Bertie Geng, Ghana (2019)
 - Tess O'Meara, Argentina (2020)
 - Amar Sheth, Ghana (2023)

- The Major José Jamil Miranda Memorial Fund for Clinical Rotations
This fund is to assist Yale School of Medicine students who are pursuing a short-term clinical, public health, or research experience, by enabling the exploration of an area of medicine or public health in a unique and under-served setting. While an international experience is preferred and encouraged, the location may also be domestic.
 - Katherine Chuang, Argentina (2018)
 - Julia Raney, Chile (2018)
 - Elizabeth Ludwig, Ghana (2018)
 - Sophia Shimer, Chile (2019)
 - Cassie Pan, Ghana (2019)
 - Goldie Stand-Over-Bull, Chinle, AZ (2019)
 - Amitte Rosenfeld, Chinle, AZ (2019)
 - Madison Sharp, Colombia (2020)
 - Patricia Valda Toro, Colombia (2020)
 - Elizabeth Fairless, Chinle, AZ (2020)
 - Emily Gao, Chinle, AZ (2020)
 - Bertie Geng, Chinle, AZ (2020)
 - Amy Thomas, Ghana (2022)
 - Tanvee Varma, Chinle, AZ (2023)
 - Kelsey Rankin, Grundy County, TN (2023)
- Yale-INTEC Practice Based Learning Elective, 6 pre-clinical students the Dominican Republic (2018, 2019)

- Schwartz Fellowship
This fellowship is to support the travel, housing, medications and immunizations, evacuation insurance, visa and HIV Prophylaxis expenses for an international clinical rotation of a highly motivated medical student.
 - Taylor Ottesen, Ghana (2019)
 - Charlie Zhao, China (2020)
 - Katherine Cooke, Ghana (2022)
 - Katherine Hill, Colombia (2023)

- Norman Herzig Fellowship
Since its inception, in 1995 this fellowship provides funds to permit Yale medical students to enjoy clinical experiences in developing countries.
 - Maryam Ige, Ghana (2020)
 - Amar Sheth, Ghana (2023)