Medical Education Discussion Group
Monday, April 22, 2019
12:00 – 1:00 pm
Cohen Auditorium

“Workplace Bullying in Academic Medicine”

Are you attending? Yes or No? Click Here

Facilitator
Kevin Pei, MD

Dr. Pei is associate professor of surgery at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center and Associate program director of the general surgery residency. He was previously on the faculty at Yale School of Medicine, an associate clerkship director, and a proud graduate of the medical education fellowship. He is expected to graduate from the MHS-Med Ed program this year under the tutelage of Dr. Janet Hafler. Dr. Pei is a passionate educator and recipient of the 2018 Association for Surgical Education Philip A. Wolfson Educator of the Year Award. He is currently studying and speaking about workplace civility and bullying.

In this interactive session you will:

Learning Objectives:
• Discuss the definition and prevalence of bullying
• Recognize and Identify examples of bullying
• Propose solutions to workplace incivility

ACCREDITATION
The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

TARGET AUDIENCE
Faculty, residents, students and staff involved in education of health care professional trainees.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT
The YSM medical education community requested seminars on enhancement of faculty teaching and curriculum writing.

DESIGNATION STATEMENT
The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Non-physician health care professional attendees are provided with a Certificate of Attendance, which may be submitted to their respective board along with other required support documentation for attendance credit.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES
Dr. Pei has no conflicts of interest to disclose. Janet Hafler, EdD, Course Director, has no conflicts of interest to disclose. It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.

There is no corporate support for this activity.